

NEXT TEN DAYS DECIDES FATE OF PEACH CROP

Future of the entire county's delectable fruit crop rests with weather conditions of the next ten days, in the opinion of H. J. Wilder, farm advisor, who made a tour of west end districts yesterday for the purpose of securing first-hand information on the peach situation.

Conference of Agricultural Extension Service members from San Bernardino, Riverside and Los Angeles Counties and others engaged in agricultural work will be held at the Chaffey Union High School today, beginning at 10 a.m.

L. B. Smith, assistant state leader of farm advisors, who called the conference, will be in charge. It is planned to open with a trip to deciduous orchards in the district during the morning, returning to Chaffey for luncheon and discussion at noon.

Little Peaches Need Shade

Ray of hope for the growers was held out yesterday by Mr. Wilder after his investigation. This exists in an unusually heavy second bloom. Second blooms are rarely worth considering, but the one this year was in many places heavier than the main bloom. The second bloom fruit has now reached the size of a pea. If it can be protected by foliage before the hot days of June and July a fair crop may yet be obtained.

The weather of the next week or ten days will decide the fate of the second bloom fruit, in Mr. Wilder's opinion. Leaves which have been slow in starting will be sufficiently advanced by that time to afford the fruit some protection from the sun. If a hot wave comes this week, however, both the crop will be lost and much of the younger growth on the trees damaged, he said.

Favorable weather will give the crop better than an even chance of maturing. A matured crop in this county will doubtless command exceptionally good prices because the main northern sections have been heavily damaged by late frosts.

Today's conference will consider means to guard what crop is set and to preserve the orchards in best condition, bringing them back to the necessary strength for another year.

SUPERIOR RADIO TO BE MADE HERE

On Thirteenth Street, just west of Euclid Avenue, is a manufacturing plant with an excellent outlook, and although the plant has been started on a small basis, indications are that its growth into something much larger is only a few months away.

Recently Geo. T. Stamm became interested in radio and as a result he and Norman Lawson entered into a company and named it the Stamm-Lawson Radio Manufacturing Company. Today the company is manufacturing a radio set which promises to make this city famous because of its ability to receive over a long distance.

Associated with Messrs. Stamm and Lawson is J. T. Roff, famous among radio fans, and at present Professor of Electricity of the University of Southern California. Mr. Roff in years gone by has been connected with the Westinghouse-Nernst Lamp Company, Westinghouse Machine Company, Union Switch and Signal Company and other Westinghouse enterprises.

The Stamm-Lawson Radio Set, which they sell to wholesalers only, is a four-tube set, containing all the latest ideas in the radio world with a secret combination of things that gets a wonderful result in receiving from broadcasting stations many hundreds of miles distant.

The Stamm-Lawson product is in two types, the desk set and the cabinet set, each of them containing four tubes and the same line-up, the cabinet set being particularly designed for the home.

LAWYER DELIVERS GUNMEN SUSPECTS

True to his pledge, Attorney E. L. Torchia of Los Angeles, yesterday delivered Victor Papatoni and Frank Borgo, accused Italian gunmen, to Sheriff Walter A. Shay, ending a search begun two weeks ago when Joe Lemendal, a wealthy vineyardist, named his asserted attackers.

Arraigned before Justice Jerome B. Kavanaugh, the two suspects were released two hours later on $5,000 bond each, furnished by wealthy Italians.

Promises Filled Twice Before

Twice the attorney had promised the sheriff to deliver the accused gunmen and yesterday he had made good, bringing Papatoni and Borgo to the jail at one o'clock. Borgo and Papatoni were photographed and their fingerprints were taken in the criminal identification bureau before being arraigned in the courts.

"I know Lemendal, but I don't know anything about the shooting," was Borgo's terse answer when asked by newspapermen what part, if any, he played in the mysterious attack of the vineyardist at his ranch at Muscat.

Lemendal was shot six times through the neck and arms when attacked by three men, whom he named as Sam Matrango—the first to be arrested—Borgo and Papatoni.

Lemendal is at the Ramona Hospital, slowly recovering from his six bullet wounds. The shooting is believed by Sheriff Shay to have been the outcome of a botch job in which Lemendal was suspected of betraying his asserted confederates.

POMONA SINGERS ON AIR TOMORROW

Under the joint auspices of Pomona College and the Claremont Chamber of Commerce, the following program will be rendered on Wednesday, May 21st, at 8 p.m. over KJH the Times radio station.

WOMEN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Three women were painfully injured and two other persons escaped serious hurt late Sunday afternoon when a motor car driven by Arthur Mayweather of Los Angeles turned turtle on the Foot-hill Boulevard after blowing a front tire.

Mrs. Betty Johnson was painfully cut and bruised about the head and face; Mrs. M. Golden sustained a badly wrenched back and bruises, and Mrs. Mayweather sustained abrasions and bruises and a wrenched back. The driver and a fifth occupant of the machine escaped with lesser hurts. They were all colored people.

The injured women were rushed to the San Antonio Hospital and Dr. John B. Craig called to attend them. The condition of none of the accident victims was found to be serious and they were able to leave the hospital Sunday night.

CUPID GETS JUDGE CRANE OUT OF BED

Two happy souls with but a single thought journeyed all the way to San Bernardino to purchase a marriage license and came near getting over into Los Angeles County before deciding to use it.

Evidently the issue was decided enroute for it was 12:30 Saturday night or very early Sunday morning, that Judge George R. Crane was hailed from his downy couch to plight the troth of two loved ones.

According to Judge Crane the bride was a very beautiful girl who confessed to eighteen summers, the groom having passed through twenty-eight hard winters. The Judge was asked to slip on something and come down stairs, so he put on his bedroom slippers, and his bathrobe and performed the ceremony about the time the moon was disappearing and the chickens were commencing to crow.

The groom was Edwin Norman Hayward and the bride Mildred Jean Ventress both of Van Nuys.

TABLET TO MARK DE ANZA'S ROUTE

NATIVE SONS WILL DEDICATE BRONZE MEMORIAL AT CAHUILLA MAY 25

Marking the historic route followed by Juan Bautista de Anza and his 33 intrepid followers on their march from Sonora to Monterey, the historical landmarks committee of the Native Sons of the Golden West will dedicate a memorial tablet to Anza at a point in Cahuilla Pass near the Cahuilla Indian reservation Sunday, May 25.

The delegation from the Native Sons will be headed by former Congressman J. R. Knowland of Oakland. The delegation will come to Hemet Sunday morning and proceed at once to Cahuilla.

It was 150 years ago that Anza and his followers passed through the Hemet-San Jacinto valley. Anza made two expeditions, one in 1774 and the other in 1775-6. While Don Jose de Galvez was organizing his first attempt at the conquest of California, Anza petitioned that he be permitted to make the journey overland from Sonora by way of the Rios Gila and Colorado, to meet the expedition of Portola at Monterey Bay. His request was refused. Finally, however, the king of Spain approved the plan and ordered the establishment of El Camino Real—the King's Highway. On January 8, 1774, Anza set out on his long, hazardous journey. The party consisted of 34 persons, including 20 soldiers and two Franciscan priests.

The expedition passed into the San Jacinto mountains on March 11, 1774. The party camped one day at Lake Hemet and passed down into what is now the Hemet-San Jacinto valley by way of Cahuilla.

Dedication of the memorial tablet to Anza will be an important and interesting event. The granite base for the bronze tablet is

ONTARIO COUNCIL TAKES ACTION AS RESULT OF KAST DEATH IN JAIL

Recommendations of Councilman Isaac Jones, chairman of the police committee of the council, following an investigation of the death of J. R. Kast in the city jail on the morning of May 4, that in the future no one be placed in the jail in an unconscious or semi-conscious condition without a doctor being called to determine the condition of the prisoner, were adopted by the city council last night. The recommendations were made following the presentation to the council of a complete report of the police committee's investigations.

The report found that Patrolman Harry Smith had been notified that two intoxicated men were attempting to create a disturbance at a private dance and that he went to find Kast in an apparent stupor with two men attempting to raise him to his feet. It recited further that O. L. Dixon was reported to have announced on two occasions that the man was in need of a doctor, but that he had failed to give any reason for such announcement and that no one had informed the police that Kast had been injured.

The police committee found further that there was a distinct odor about Kast resembling that of alcohol and that he had every appearance of being in an intoxicated condition. The report held that too much had been taken for granted on the part of the police, members of the dancing party and Kast's own companions. It recommended no discipline for members of the police department, but suggested that an error of judgment on the safe and humane side were better than later to regret the omission of such act. The committee found no evidence of careless neglect of duty, pointing out that Kast was examined by the chief of police and other officers and that the man's own companions made no effort to secure medical aid for him.

WEBER, GRAHAME, AVERY JOIN ROTARY

Dr. A. L. Weber, Jas. Lynward Grahame and Will S. Avery today became members of the Upland Rotary Club and under the direction of Music Master John D. Howe, it was found that they each knew their respective line of endeavor, for from a table piled high with numerous articles each selected what he used in his line.

Today's luncheon proved a busy one for Sergeant-Arms O. P. Brady, who was named to relieve former Sergeant Harry Harlow, who was overworked last year, according to some of the members whose pocket books were flattened as though they had been stepped on by an elephant. Sergeant Brady was on his feet most of the dinner hour.

C. J. Booth, of the citrus department of Chaffey Union High School, was the speaker of the day, the program being under the supervision of H. C. Moore. Mr. Booth related some of his experiences in watching the peculiarities of orange trees and his talk was particularly interesting to growers.

Members of the club broadcast by telephone to Jess Heinecke, who has been ill with the smallpox and quarantined in his home, one of his own songs to the tune of "Marchita." Mr. Heinecke is getting along nicely and will soon be out again.

NEWSPAPER MEN VISIT THE NEWS

Several members of the California Press Association were in Upland yesterday. Eighty members of the press association came south the latter part of last week for the annual vacation with Governor Richardson, who is President. Saturday night newspaper men and women of the entire state enjoyed a banquet at the Mission Inn, Riverside.

Yesterday association members were out inspecting newspaper and printing plants of the south, and The Upland News plant was visited. Members of the association were greatly surprised to find here such an extensive plant, as few towns the size of Upland have the equipment that has been installed here. Redlands was visited during the forenoon, with a luncheon at the Casa Loma Hotel.

Tomorrow the Press Association members go from Riverside to Corona, thence to Orange County Park, and then on to Long Beach, where they will spend the remainder of the week at Hotel Virginia. Saturday the party from the north leaves for home.

UPLAND LIBRARY RECEIVES GIFTS

Today Mrs. Clapp is cataloging books that will be placed on the exhibit table some time next week. These were purchased some time since, partly through the generosity of Miss Harwood. A few days ago a gift of $50 was given to the library fund by R. R. Harrington for the purchase of books.

The Upland Public Library is fortunate indeed in having these good friends. It makes possible the buying of more books for the use of the public, and the public shows its appreciation by its use of the library. A new Webster's Dictionary was recently purchased, 1924 edition. This is the first dictionary purchased by the library. The County Free Library furnished a Standard dictionary soon after Upland joined the County Free Library and a donation of an older edition of Webster was received at the time of opening the library building to the public some eleven years ago in August. The new dictionary is composed of four separate departments—general vocabulary of over 400,000 words, a gazetteer of the world, a biographical dictionary and a reference history of the world.

The personnel of the Club includes several young women from this community; Miss Geneva Moremen, Miss Lillian Widmer and Miss Marian Cornelius will all be remembered as students of Chaffey. Miss Moremen, especially, has appeared in musical programs given at Chaffey Union High School.

BIG YEAR AHEAD FOR GAS COMPANY

The year 1924 is to be a big one for the local Southern Counties Gas Company, according to Ferdinand R. Bain, president and general manager, who estimates that approximately $2,000,000 will be expended by his company for betterments and improvements to its system in Southern California. While this large sum will be scattered over the company's eight districts, the Upland territory will absorb approximately $140,000 of it during the current year.

In the Upland district, one of the largest improvements will be the installation of 30,000 feet of 8-inch transmission line from Spadra to Covina, costing $54,000. This natural gas main will substantially re-enforce the transmission system supplying the Covina territory, including Covina, Glendora, Azusa, Baldwin Park and Puente.

Approximately $5,000 will be expended in the City of Pomona for betterments and replacements on account of paving. In addition, there will be numerous miscellaneous expenditures made in Pomona.

In and around San Dimas several betterments will be made, including the installation of a 2-inch main on Amelia Avenue, on San Dimas Avenue, installation of a regulator and other equipment.

In the Upland territory, $20,000 will be expended to re-enforce the distribution system. At the present time the Upland distribution system is heavily loaded and this re-enforcement will enable the Southern Counties Gas Company to better the gas service here.

In Chino, Azusa, San Dimas and other sections of the local gas company territory, a number of miscellaneous improvements and betterments will be carried on during the present year. The company estimates that 800 new gas consumers will be added in this district during 1924 and, placing the cost of each consumer at $70, it is figured that approximately $56,000 will be expended in this avenue. Furthermore, new transportation equipment will be purchased from time to time as the growth of this section warrants, according to company officials.

President Bain states that the company now serves approximately 125,000 consumers in more than fifty cities of Southern California. The company began operations in 1911 with something less than 4,000 consumers, serving Whittier, Orange County and the Covina valley district. President Bain said that this organization had acquired distribution systems and expanded its properties until today its gas mains extend across Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino, Ventura and Santa Barbara Counties. The pioneer natural gas utility of this part of the state, the Southern Counties Gas Company, is now receiving its gas supply from every substantial gas producing field of Southern California.

GIRL'S GLEE CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT

On Monday night, May 26, the Pomona College Girls Glee Club will give the last of the season's concerts at the Upland Grammar School auditorium.

The Club has a very able director in Mr. Arthur Babcock, who is instructor of voice at Pomona College. The interpretation and directness of the Glee Club's singing reflect the ability of the instructor. The Quartette of the Club will give several numbers; there will also be several readings and piano solos to vary the usual program.

The Girls have gained a great deal of experience by their concerts at the Vista del Arroyo Hotel of Pasadena; at St. Ann's Inn, Santa Ana, and at San Diego. These dinner concerts were very successful. Several sacred programs have been given at Pomona and Glendora, in addition to many other concerts during the school year. The Glee Club's home concert was the best of the season, and many people of this community will enjoy hearing them again; for after all of this experience the Club's last concert should be above many of the others.

The personnel of the Club includes several young women from this community; Miss Geneva Moremen, Miss Lillian Widmer and Miss Marian Cornelius will all be remembered as students of Chaffey. Miss Moremen, especially, has appeared in musical programs given at Chaffey Union High School.

MONROE STATION LEASED BY RIBER

A deal was closed this morning by which G. D. Ribier leases of J. F. Monroe the Service Station at the corner of Euclid Avenue and Tenth Street. The lease covers a period of five years and Mr. Ribier, who comes here from Los Angeles has had several years' experience catering to the wants of motorists.

The station is to be called the "Euclid Service Station", and will serve the motoring public with gas, oils, accessories, modern crank case service and greasing. Although all the details of the new station have not been completed, Mr. Ribier expects to be ready to serve patrons tomorrow and cordially invites the motoring public to visit the new station. By Saturday the station and its grounds will be completed.

PICNIC DINNER FOR HOSPITAL CREW

To increase the amount of pep with which the workers on the hospital campaign are already endowed, a picnic supper will be given tomorrow evening by the wives of the committee appointed to solicit funds beginning Thursday and continuing the rest of the week.

The supper in charge of Mrs. E. W. Thayer, Mrs. F. H. Manker and Mrs. T. W. Nisbet will be given in the new hospital building, and the kitchen will be used to prepare the meal. The above mentioned women are chairmen for each district and with several able assistants have planned an appetizing supper with which to send the already willing workers on their way rejoicing.

Those who already have their money to give the campaigners and those who are planning to give but haven't decided how much, are asked to be ready with their contributions as there is work ahead for the solicitors and anything that can be done to lighten it will be appreciated.

KENDALL NAMED TO ATTEND ROAD CONFERENCE

Chairman A. G. Kendall, of the Board of Supervisors, was yesterday named by Gov. Friend W. Richardson as one of the representatives of California to attend the annual conference of the U. S. Good Roads Association and Bankhead National Highway at Albuquerque, May 26 to 31, inclusive.

The supervisors, in weekly conference, approved of Chairman Kendall's appointment by the governor and he accepted a request to also represent San Bernardino County at the conference. Road engineers and officials from virtually every state in the union will attend. California will extend an invitation to the association to hold its 1925 convention in this state.

Livestock Ordinance is Adopted
An ordinance repealing emergency legislation adopted during the foot and mouth disease epidemic was enacted by the supervisors. This ordinance provides for the cleansing of all pens at ranches where the disease was experienced and regulates the construction of animal pens. A similar ordinance was adopted by Orange and Los Angeles Counties and it embodies the federal and state rulings used in the successful eradications of the plague.

School Districts are Annexed
Annexation of the elementary school districts of Lytle, Cajon, Keenbrook and Clear Springs by the San Bernardino School District was unanimously approved by the supervisors at the request of an overwhelming majority of residents of the outlying districts.

The four districts which include all scholastics in the Cajon territory up to the summit, will be combined into a single elementary school, under the provisions made yesterday, with all pupils attending at a central location to be selected by the San Bernardino Board of Education. A two-story building is to be erected and transportation facilities provided by the Board.

PLAY RECEIPTS GO TO HOSPITAL FUND

Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors," recently chosen as the annual institutional play of Chaffey High School and Junior College, will be presented as a benefit to the new San Antonio Community Hospital, according to announcement today of Merton E. Hill, Chaffey principal, and Miss Wilhelmina Barnes, who is directing the production. There will be two performances of the famous comedy. The first showing will be a matinee on Friday, May 23, at 3 o'clock and the second and final presentation will be on Saturday evening, May 24, at 8:15.

The San Antonio Community Hospital Association is now conducting a campaign to raise $64,000 to clear

RAMONA PAGEANT WILL BE HELD

Announcement was made today that the second annual Ramona Pageant, produced under the auspices of the Hemet-San Jacinto Chamber of Commerce and postponed in April as a precautionary measure against the spread of the foot and mouth disease in Southern California, will be held May 30, 31 and June 1st, in the Ramona Hotel, south of Hemet. The new dates for the pageant have been selected with the approval of federal and state authorities in charge of the fight against the foot and mouth disease.

The three days of the pageant—Memorial Day, Saturday and Sunday—will be gala days in Hemet and San Jacinto. Arrangements are being made to accommodate the largest crowds ever to come to these cities on a festive occasion.

A cast of more than 100 players will be under the direction of Ernest Holmes, producer of the Pilgrimage Play at Hollywood; the Pageant of the Sun at Coronado, the Mountain Play at Mt. Tamalpais, the Desert Play at Palm Springs, and other open-air attractions known from coast to coast.

The pageant will be given in the afternoon of each of the three days. The story will follow the world-famous novel, "Ramona," by Helen Hunt Jackson, who wrote the book at San Jacinto and drew on this locality for her characters and historical background.

Our Harbor Facilities

A GREATER knowledge of the port of Los Angeles at San Pedro and Wilmington is needed by the general public in Southern California. This man-made harbor has come to the front so rapidly that few appreciate the magnitude of business or the necessity for future development.

A decade ago it was an eventful day when a passenger steamer tied up at the one of two or three piers. Lumber schooners and several coastwise passenger lines also made the port, but there was little of moment in their movements.

Then came the war. The San Pedro and Long Beach shipyards were built to a proportion greater than the dreams of anyone who had thought of the possibilities of Los Angeles competing with other coast points in this regard.

Also, it was found that shipping by water was more economical and entailed less wear when man power was needed for winning the war. And the governments and the world at large recognized Los Angeles harbor as a contender in foreign trade.

What we see there today, however, is but a starter. Between the city and the sea a great industrial area is to be developed. More channels will need to be cut in the low lands between Long Beach and Wilmington. And San Pedro itself must become the metropolis for which it is destined.

There is no doubt in the mind of anyone who has talked with shipping interests that the southland is the coming gateway of Pacific trade, particularly for exporting the fruits and products of this section. We needs must give thought to the development of greater harbor facilities.

The Forest-Fire Season

PERSISTENT efforts have been made for many years to impress upon the general public the importance of fire prevention, and it is hoped that something has been gained. The records show, however, that forest fires are costing us millions of dollars a year and are depleting the forests which have already been denuded quite to the danger point.

"We hear a good deal about 'forest planting,' as an enterprise undertaken by the Federal government. It is very desirable, as far as it goes, but it helps only a very little. About 36,000 acres are planted annually with trees in the national forests, but all the forest lands owned by the government, even under intensive management, could produce not more than one-fifth of the timber we require.

"One modern-sized fire will easily wipe out more acres of timber than we plant annually, and, on an average, we have in this country 33,500 forest fires every year. Such fires are the greatest cause of forest destruction.

Prosecute and fine a few careless people who cause forest fires and it would have a wholesome effect on those who use our forests.

Japan and Logic

A GROUP of Japanese colonists landed upon a deserted island near the north coast of Australia and proceeded to clear the land and plant crops. Others followed them and a little Japan was set up in a region almost deserted of human beings.

Word of this colony finally reached the government of Australia—a government that sticks rigidly to the policy that its territory shall be exclusively a white man's land. Inquiry in Japan brought the answer that Japan had been entirely ignorant about the colonization. A warship called at the island, brought off all the colonists and their belongings and transported them back to their home country.

The government of Japan made no protest against this action. It has itself a law which forbids a foreigner to own any land in the kingdom. The Australians did the very thing which the Japanese would feel entitled to do in like circumstances.

The alien land acts of California and the exclusion provisions of the new immigration bill in the American congress are only phases of the policies of Japan and Australia. The curious thing is that while Japan works up no excitement over the forceful transportation of Japanese colonists from southern Pacific waters she becomes feverish over the thought of far less drastic action on the part of the United States.

Australia for the white races is a policy inaugurated not from racial bumptiousness, but from a sense of protection. The country could be quickly overrun by Asiatics. Japan is more selfish since she holds tightly to land that is in no danger of passing completely out of her control. Logically, it should be recognized that we can set up the same kind of defenses. But as concerns the United States, Japan puts logic aside.

Liberalism Gaining

THE annual report of the board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church was read at the general conference at Springfield, Ill., last week. The bishops advocated that the ban on dancing, card playing, theatre and circus going be lifted, and the recommendation was loudly applauded.

At Elsinore recently the Chamber of Commerce of that thriving city sponsored a banquet to which representatives of every city in the county were invited. The banquet was served in the basement of the handsome new Elsinore Methodist church. Entertainment during the dinner was of the cabaret variety. Following the dinner the men were permitted to smoke. It is only fair to say, however, that we have no knowledge that this was done with the approval or permission of the church. The fact is that it was apparently not looked upon as a community scandal in Elsinore.—Hemet News.

CUCAMONGA

Aloha Club in Delightful Party

An ideal May evening, with a wonder setting of sunset on mountain peaks to the purple shadows of canyon and the valley below, proved most alluring to members of the Aloha Club, who were delightfully entertained at dinner on Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Thorpe at their charming foothill home, "Edgemount," in Alta Loma. Lovel: canyon wildflowers banked the corners of the spacious living rooms, with shaded lights casting a soft glow over small dining-tables, where a delicious chicken dinner was served by the hostess. Bowls of velvety panades and fragrant sweet-peas centered the tables. Following the dinner-hour, six tables of 500 devotees enjoyed the evening's tournament, with the winning scores being made by Mrs. Clyde E. Gates and H. L. Salisbury. Miss Pearl Belden of Hamilton, Ohio, was a guest of the evening.

The club expects to hold their final meeting and evening picnic supper, an annual event much enjoyed by the members, at an early date.

The Citizens' Transfer & Storage Company of Tucson, Arizona, operates a fleet of eighteen trucks in local and long distance hauling. Zerolene is used exclusively.

ZEROLENE succeeds "EASTERN" and lubricates better

With the passing of the superstition that there is something mysteriously "better" about eastern oils, just because they cost more, Zerolene sales have increased seven-fold in the last seven years.

The following extract from a recent letter written us by the Citizens' Transfer & Storage Company of Tucson, Arizona, has some bearing on the reasons for this increase:

"Previous to using your Zerolene oils we experienced considerable trouble with eastern oils, which were much higher in price, and we found not suited to our use. We have used Zerolene oils and greases for the past five years. Our equipment (18 trucks and 2 passenger cars) is operated continuously throughout the year and the maintenance has been confined to keeping it supplied with the proper amount of oil and grease; bearings have required only reasonable adjustment after long intervals, and no replacements. We were well pleased with our recent quarterly check on the mechanical condition of our equipment, and knowing this condition to be maintained by the use of your oils and greases, we thought your company would be interested to know of our complete satisfaction."

ZEROLENE F for FORDS
—the Standard Oil Company's new improved oil for Ford cars "Feeds Those Oil-Starved Fords."

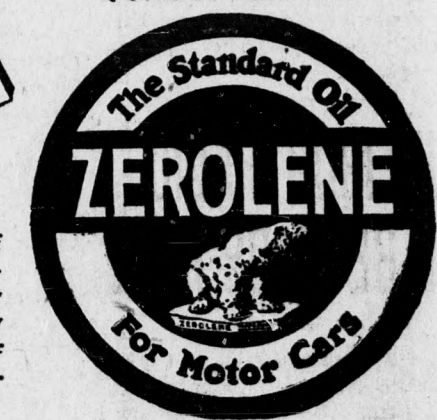

We believe that Zerolene will improve the gasoline mileage, reduce carbon deposits, and lengthen the working life of every car in which it is used.

Why pay tribute to a superstition? Insist on Zerolene even if it does cost less.

This booklet reports independent service tests of Zerolene made by a number of large users. Ask any Standard Oil Company sales representative or Zerolene dealer for a copy.

THIRTY MILLION DOLLAR REFUND

Thirty million dollars will be distributed by the government to approximately 100,000 taxpayers in Southern California during the next six months on account of refunds of overpayment of taxes for the last five years in connection with the recent community property income ruling and the inheritance tax decision.

Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell announced yesterday that checks for all of these refunds will be drawn at Washington and sent to his office for distribution. Careful check will be made in the local office before the checks are presented to taxpayers to ascertain if credits have already been taken on income payments or if the taxpayer is in arrears on his current taxes.

"The distribution of $30,000,000 in the ten counties of Southern California cannot fail to exercise a beneficial effect on business in general and tend to make even more staple the dependable and ever-increasing prosperity in this section of the country," said the collector.

In presenting his survey of the refunds due in Southern California and the income-producing power of the local district, Collector Goodcell called attention to three facts:

That the ten counties of the Los Angeles District paid more income tax for the first quarter of the present year than any one of the following 40 states: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

That the ten southern counties paid more income taxes for the first quarter of 1924 than two New York districts combined; more than three Ohio districts combined and more than the 12th Pennsylvania district; as much as the states of Connecticut, Delaware, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont and Maine combined; $1,000,000 more than twelve western states with a population of 7,340,160 and an area of 1,060,487 square miles, as compared with Southern California's population under the 1920 census of 1,423,699 and an area less than one-tenth that of the twelve states.

That only New York, population 10,384,000; Pennsylvania, 8,700,000; and Illinois, 6,485,000, exceeded California with its population of 3,426,000 in the amount of income taxes paid by any state this year.

UPLAND GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Combs fifth grade teacher spent the week-end at Long Beach.

At the home of Miss Tarleton last Wednesday evening a very enjoyable surprise birthday party was given to Miss Combs by her pupils.

A track meet and spelling match by the Grammar schools of the Chaffey Union District will be held on Saturday, May 24th at the High School. Last year the Upland pupils brought home both cups. We are expecting the cups again this year.

Class B's Indoor Team went to the South Euclid school in Ontario on the 13th and in a nine inning game won with a score of 26 to 4. We have arranged for a return game with them in which we hope to win another victory.

Several recitations and a play were staged Friday morning in the school auditorium by Miss Alecock's second grade pupils. The play "The Doll Shop" was enjoyed by everyone present.

The class meeting of the 'Class of '24' was held Thursday afternoon for the purpose of electing new officers, who are as follows:

President, Vernon Shiflett, vice president, Myron Woodruff; secretary, Ruth Clark; treasurer, Morris Stevens.

HIS BUSINESS SECRET

"What is the secret of your success?" asked the inquisitive reporter.

"Well," said the wealthy merchant, "I always made it a point if I knew the women were crazy to buy silk hosiery not to stock up my store with mouse traps and try to sell them those instead."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

INDIAN CONCERT TO BE GIVEN ON MAY 27TH

Building Boost

Ontario's May building total was given a goodly boost Saturday when City Building Inspector O. S. Roen issued permits representing an expenditure of $19,500. This makes the total for the present month to date $39,550 and that for the year thus far, $336,793. The bulk of the expenditure represented is in the permit for the new garment factory of the Ironall factories of California, Inc., at a cost of $17,500. Work on this structure, which is to be the first unit of what will eventually be a much larger plant, it is said, is already under way. The factory is to stand at Sultana Avenue and California Street and W. E. Chantry is the contractor.

The company, which will manufacture overalls, khaki garments, children's play suits and the like, expects to have its Ontario factory ready for operation about July 1. A large consignment of machinery for the local plant has already been shipped from New York by water and will arrive in Ontario in about 30 days, according to Oscar A. Berman, president of the company.

The Ironall Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, is one of the most widely known overall manufacturing concerns in America. The Ontario plant will supply the western trade as far east as Denver, Colo., it is said. It is declared that the Ontario factory will give employment at the start to approximately 100 women and that the number will be increased as the western business gets under way.

Another permit issued today by Inspector Roen was that to H. M. Douglas for the erection in Washington street of a 4-room hollow-tile dwelling at a cost of $2,000. E. E. Williams is the contractor.

Attend Bridge Luncheon

Among recent delightful affairs of interest in Ontario society circles was the smart bridge luncheon of Miss Daisy Latimer at Riverside to which a number of Ontarians were bidden.

The charming affair was given at the attractive Riverside Woman's Club. Graceful baskets of old-fashioned garden blossoms and fernery were used with artistic effect in decoration and softly-shaded lights added to the pleasing effect.

Luncheon was announced at one o'clock and was served in courses. Bridge followed.

Prizes in the auction tournament were captured by Mrs. W. W. Stewart, Mrs. C. R. Stibbens and Mrs. Darst.

The local society women motored over for the event, the Ontario guest-list including Mrs. Frank M. Taylor, Mrs. Caroline Vermilye, Mrs. Hugh H. Frankish, Mrs. Harvey O. Chapman, Mrs. W. S. Fenton, Mrs. Charles Latimer, Mrs. Harold Latimer, Mrs. Welles T. Ross, Mrs. Earl M. Hill, Mrs. Ward Walker, Mrs. John S. Ingalls, Mrs. L. B. Fowler, Mrs. Bert Cope and Miss Eleanor Latimer.

RED SPIDER IS DANGEROUS PEST

W. B. Hooper, of Agricultural Extension Service, Explains Control Methods Used

There are three species of plant mites or red spiders, that are injurious pests in California, the common red spider, the brown or almond mite and the citrus red spider. The common red spider, usually found on the walnut, is classified along with the other two in the same family with the scorpions, spiders and mites. It is the web-spinning species and is usually found on the under side of the leaf. It can be found in the adult, egg and nymphal stages at practically any time of the year. The eggs are yellow when first laid, changing to red before hatching and are almost invisible to the naked eye. The newly hatched larvae is almost transparent, but change to a greenish color when it begins to feed. The feeding is done by piercing the plant tissue and sucking the juice. The larvae has six legs attached to a round body, and its movement over the leaf is restricted.

In the next, or nymphal stages, the mite has eight legs and wanders about freely. The adult also moves freely and is an active feeder. The adult is much smaller than the head of a pin. It is a pale yellow, or yellowish-red color, usually with two darker spots on each side of the body, giving it the name of the "Two-spotted Mite" (Tetranychus telarius and bimaculatus). The colors vary with the supply of food. When insufficiently fed the color becomes more reddish. The time of development from egg to adult is from five days to ten days in summer.

Appears with Coming of Spring
The winter is spent in concealment, on weeds and hardy cultivated plants, under leaves, or in the surface two or three inches of soil. The adults appear in spring and being general feeders, find plenty of host plants. The apple, ash, castor bean, bean, blackberry, sugar beet, celery, clematis, corn, cow pea, eggplant, gooseberry, grapefruit, iron weed, jimson weed, morning glory, peach, pear, pepper, and walnut (both English and black) are some of the food plants. As the weather becomes warmer the numbers increase. Each female may deposit from 50 to 110 eggs, the egg laying period varying from 12 to 36 days.

In the latter part of July or the first weeks of August, in seasons favorable to its development, the mites are present in sufficient numbers to cause a fine yellow mottling effect on the leaves, which finally turn yellow and drop several weeks before the tree normally becomes dormant. This yellow mottling effect is caused by the mite or spider feeding on the sap and reducing the amount of chlorophyll or green coloring matter.

If the mites are destroyed before a large amount of the sap has been withdrawn, recovery is rapid, but usually their presence is not noticed until the leaves begin to turn yellow and before the mites can be killed the leaves have been so injured that they will not recover. Without chlorophyll the tree cannot manufacture the starches and sugars that mature the crop and form next year's fruit buds, so there is double injury. The nuts of this year's crop are lighter in weight and poorer in quality, and the next year's crop is cut down in size, weight and quality. In heavy infestations and serious injury, the effects may be noticed during the winter and following spring in the poorly filled buds.

Wind Causes Rapid Spread
The spider is not usually present on the walnut in numbers until the last of July. This has led some growers to believe that as the beans or other intercrops matured the spiders transferred their activities to the walnut trees. This is no doubt often the case. The mites are very active and may travel some distance by crawling. Wind-carriage, either of the individual mite or by falling leaves carrying many mites is another method of spread. The spider seems to have developed the ballooning habit common to other individuals of its family, and travels by spinning a web into the air and floating away on the wind with it. Tests conducted with taglefoot have shown that mites may be carried several hundred feet by a light wind and this is probably the most common method of spreading.

Lack of sufficient soil moisture and red spider injury are usually closely associated. Trees that have been weakened by lack of moisture are not able to withstand the drain of sap that is removed by the spiders and show the injury much more quickly than trees in good condition. This has been shown many times in almond orchards. Trees along permanent irrigation ditches or trees that have received more water will retain their foliage under the attack while other trees in the same orchard have been practically defoliated.

Consequently growers who know that their groves may be subject to the attack of the red spider should be absolutely certain that an ample supply of moisture is available to the depth of fully eight feet at the start of the growing season and make sure that the supply is maintained throughout the summer.

Plowing Aids in Control
Plowing and cultivating in the spring and early summer months to prevent the growth of weeds that serve as food plants for the spider will prevent the rapid increase in numbers of the pest and greatly retard the injury to trees and crop. Growing a cover crop which is not a host plant, and most of our common cover crops, particularly the legumes and grasses are free from the attacks of the mite, serves much the same purpose in choking out weeds which serve as food plants. Growers making a practice of growing beans as an intercrop in orchards subject to attack from red spider would probably find less injury to the trees if the orchard were clean cultivated.

Sulphur applied as finely divided dust has been used as a control for red spider on other fruits and crops for many years and has been fairly satisfactory. It has been used in this form on the walnut.

The Walnut Growers Spray Manufacturing Company used a dust on a few infested groves last year and I understand secured a satisfactory control. Previously a dust had been used containing 25 per cent hydrated lime and gave unsatisfactory results. A change was made in the formula which greatly improved the dust. In dusting with sulphur, a very finely divided state is desirable in order to insure a thorough distribution and adherence to the leaves. Such material is on the market but the sulphur alone packs and does not spread well. Experiments show that additions of hydrated lime or kaolin up to 10 per cent causes the dust to handle and spread more evenly and gives fully as good control as the sulphur alone.

Dust has been found more effective as a control where the air is more humid and winds light. More work should be done to determine the number of applications that may be needed to insure a satisfactory control. The important factor at the present time is to make the first application early enough and not wait for the damage to appear. To break in here I wish to announce that the extension program of work for the year includes red spider with aphids and codling moth in the inspection service that is maintained. If you will notify the farm advisor in your county of previous infestations in your grove, he will either check up on the presence of the pest himself or forward the request to the extension specialist.

Spraying is Tried
We have but little data on spraying for the control of red spider on walnuts. Conclusions must be drawn from a study of work with other fruits. Formulas for spraying almonds, peaches and pears have been recommended by E. R. de Ong in University of California Bulletin No. 347.

Formula No. 1—
Sulphur (sublimated or powdered) 5 lbs.
Calcium Caseinate 1/2 lb.
Water to make 100 gals.
This is to be applied just before the time the mites begin feeding in the orchard the previous year, but before they are found on the trees.

With many of the other fruits a spray has given better results than any application of the dust. Formula No. 2 is the same as No. 1, but has 1 gallon of lime sulphur concentrate added for peaches and 2 gallons for almonds. Walnut foliage is very susceptible to burning and care should be taken in using caustic sprays especially at temperatures approaching 100 degrees. The above formula is a contact spray and is quicker acting than the sulphur alone. A contact spray is not effective if too long delayed and heavy infestations cannot be checked by one application.

To summarize:
1. Keep an abundant supply of moisture available throughout the entire root zone throughout the season.
2. Spray or dust previous to the time the infestation began the previous year though the pest is not noticeable.
3. If control measures are too long delayed make two or three applications for effective control.

A TRIAL AT SLIPPERY SLAP

"Well, sir," said Turley Differdang, of Turley Trot, "when I was over at Slippery Slay tither-day I listened to a queer trial."

"Did, eh?"

"Eh-yah! They had a couple of brothers-in-law up for fighting. 'Pears like, in the course of the rucus Jim Waller pulled out Tobe Snatch's whiskers by the roots. Well, after the jury had studied the case for quite a spell they took and turned Jim loose and 'ned Tobe 15 cents, the price of a shave.'—Kansas City Star.

Advice Is Given Home Builders

Average Man Wants Too Much for His Money

By Harry F. Hossack, Jr.
Vice-President Security Housing Corporation.

It is generally conceded that home ownership is the best protection that a man can give his family, next to life insurance. The answer to the question, "Buy or Build?" can only be settled as a matter of personal choice and local circumstances.

If it is "buy," get the help of experienced men. If it is "build," the same advice applies. Reliable financial institutions can usually send you to competent advisers, in either case.

Some institutions making loans for new construction, for the purchase of completed homes, or for the payment of outstanding obligations have large technical staffs capable of analyzing and advising. The homebuilder pays, usually, whether he gets them or not, a price for a home that is too high for a home of the same type and location. He had better get proper advice if he pays for it. It will

Sacrifices are, in most cases more of a term than a reality. "Bargains" in homes depend on many elements of value beyond the ability of the average home buyer to recognize or ascertain. The fact that a house was once priced at $7500 and "can now be bought for $6500" is no proof that its true value is not $6500. The uninformed purchaser takes a loss when he pays more than cash value of the lot plus a competitive cash price of duplicating the house with due allowance for shrunken and time needed to construct the dwelling.

Care In Financing Vital

Scientific financing, on a plan that considers all these elements can protect the home builder at all points. It is said that one plan, providing certain definite guarantees against the mistakes of inexperience, can eliminate 20 per cent of the waste common to ordinary systems of home financing.

It is hardly necessary here to call attention to the danger of dealing with incompetent or unbonded contractors. The same care should be taken in dealing with reliable financial houses. The day seems to have passed when "financial institution" or "financier" meant solid substantial assets. Any one who can sell a mortgage is a financier or financial institution in modern terms. Some make a practice of agreeing to lend funds they can only deliver after selling the mortgage. This practice spells woe for both owner and contractor when the market is dull for mortgages.

RADIO ON THE FARM

The radio, while generally regarded as belonging more to urban than to rural life, has become popular in the country. The department of agriculture recently completed a survey showing that 145,000 farm families are now equipped with radio receiving sets.

Based on an estimate of five persons to a family, this would mean that there are now 725,000 rural radio fans capable of tuning in and hearing the various programs put out at broadcasting stations.

The radio may work as a greater influence than the telephone, good roads, electricity and the motor car in keeping people on the farm, for these conveniences, in many cases, only increased the hunger for things urban.

CHAFFEY TIGERS
SECOND IN C. B. L.

Chaffey Tigers clinched second place in the C. B. L. Friday afternoon, when they defeated the Redlands Terriers by an 8 to 1 score in their last scheduled game of the season.

Martin, in the box for Chaffey, was in good form, having nine strikeouts to his credit, and also helped materially in winning the game with a three-base clout in the fourth that brought in a run and put the Tigers on an even basis with their opponents.

Redlands scored its run in the third frame, when Dewitt smashed a hot one to centre, and was brought home by Bacon on a Texas leaguer.

Chaffey evened things in their fourth. Pulley bunted and Martin came through with his aforementioned wallop that evened matters. They came right back in the fifth with their good work. M. Martin doubled to centerfield bleachers, Fenwick walked, Garrison was safe at first on an infield hit, filling the bases. Crossley walked, forcing in M. Martin. With the bases still loaded, French came through with a double to the centerfield bleachers, scoring Fenwick, Garrison and Crossley. This put the game on ice for the Tigers, but to make it good measure they came back in the sixth and seventh with three more tallies. This win clinched second place in the league for Chaffey, they having only lost one game in the league race.

BERDOO BEAT POMONA

San Bernardino and Pomona staged an exciting game on Thursday afternoon on the Berdoo field, which was not decided until the tenth inning, when the homesters managed to squeeze a run across the pan which took a 4-3 game and put them in third place in the league. Much depended on the game as whichever team won advanced to the third position.

ERRORS WIN FOR RIVERSIDE

Riverside Poly High baseball nine won the first game in the All Southern playoff Friday afternoon, 12 to 5, when they defeated Colton on their home grounds. The score stood at a tie, 2 to 2, through the fourth inning, when two errors by Colton let in three runs for Riverside. Colton tightened up in the sixth, coming back with two runs, and making the score 5 to 4. However, another error in the seventh let in two more Riverside runs, and five errors in the eighth inning let in the same number of runs. Riverside made only two earned runs, making the others on errors.

"BOHEMIAN GIRL"
ENDS THE SEASON

The Chaffey Community Players brought their season to a successful close with a performance of Balfe's well-known opera, "The Bohemian Girl" at the Chaffey auditorium last Friday and Saturday evenings.

The opera was produced under the direction of Ivan Banner of Ontario, and the entire cast was composed of local talent, each member doing his part in a creditable manner.

Neill North who took the part of the Polish exile Thaddeus, not only sang his part to perfection, but by his dramatic interpretation added considerably to the role. While all his solos were enjoyed, his rendition of "Then You'll Remember Me" was undoubtedly the best of all.

Charles Walker as Count Arnheim whose little daughter is stolen by gypsies, gave everyone great pleasure by his singing, and his solo "The Heart Bowed Down" received merited applause. Geo. Young as Devilshoof, chief of the gypsies ran him a close second in dramatic honors, and the character of the gypsy soldier, Florstein, nephew of the Count was well portrayed by Lee G. Marrs.

The leading lady's part, Arline, daughter of the Count was taken by Mrs. Ivan Banner who pleased her audience particularly with her solo "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls". Her voice lent itself very well to all her solos and the duets with her lover and father showed excellent work.

As Queen of the Gypsies, Mrs. Rella M. Karnes made a fetching one. Her costumes were very attractive and her acting most impressive.

Others in the cast were Mrs. Charles Mayo as Buda, attendant to the small daughter of the Count, taken by little Florence Benner; David Robertson, captain of the guard, and a chorus of nobles, gypsies, soldiers and peasants. Mrs. Charles Mayo at the piano and Mrs. Earl Johnson at the pipe organ were excellent accompanists.

The court costume of the nobility and the brightly colored garbs of the gypsies produced a brilliant effect, and the gay trappings of the street fair scenery made a colorful background for the fanciful figures that thronged the stage.

Special dances under the direction of Mrs. Charles L. Tuttle were given by Miss Leonore Tuttle, Miss Alberta Schaefer, Miss Hazel Gimby and Miss Hited Reklaw during the woodland festivities in the first act.

Those in the chorus were: Mesdames Ernest C. Cheel, C. L. Dinger, Aaron Ogan, and Paul D. Smith; the Misses Mabel Johnson, Lucy Littlejohn, Carolyn Benner, Lila Shattuck, Helen Seay, Leonora Tuttle, Hited Reklaw, Alberta Schaefer, Islay Gimby, Hazel Gimby, Dorothy Hamilton and Evelyn Cheel; Messrs. Henry Garrett, Edward Middough, Ernest C. Cheel, Charles P. Hayes, Arthur M. Hoffman, Jack Littlejohn, Lewis Benner, W. H. Ross, Clayton K. Close, Donald E. Hill, William Gurley and F. P. Smith.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR L. W. WILLIAMS WED.

Lala W. Williams, formerly of Ontario, died at Banning, where he had been residing since last October, on Monday, and funeral services will be held on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock from Draper's Ontario Chapel, the Rev. White of Banning officiating.

Mr. Williams was 32 years, 7 months, and leaves a widow, Mrs. Agnes Galle Williams. He had no family.

Music will be sung by a quartette from the Evangelical Church in Ontario, and pallbearers will be young men from the Ontario Power Company, with whom Mr. Williams worked when an employee of the company.

Growers Optimistic
With peach trees in the vast deciduous district to the south of Ontario finally bursting into leaf, fruit growers of this section who, together with the rest of Southern California, have viewed the situation with alarm, were considerably more optimistic today, according to William M. Gurley, Monte Vista district rancher.

Owing to peculiar weather conditions earlier in the year, peach growers had feared that they would have little or no crops. Unusually warm weather in February is said to have started a flow of sap and resultant budding and when colder weather followed

VINE PAVING ASSURED

Concrete and asphaltic paving of Vine Avenue from Desau street to Fourth street, a distance of two miles, was virtually assured last night when the time for the filing of protests against the proposed improvement expired without any having been filed. The city council adopted a resolution calling for bids for the work to be opened June 2, was presented.

Klan To Meet

W. M. Moore, appearing before the council on behalf of the Ku Klux Klan, was given permission for that organization to hold a public meeting in City Hall Park at some date in the near future, with the understanding that such meeting in no way take the form of an attack upon any portion of Ontario's citizenry. Mr. Moore stated that the proposed meeting was for purely educational purposes and would be addressed by a representative of the national organization.

Want Street Opened

A petition requesting the opening and grading of Oakland avenue from California street to the south city limits, was referred to the street committee. This street was dedicated many years ago, but was never opened and a portion of it is now set to orange trees.

Resignation of Dr. S. P. S. Edwards as city health officer, food and milk inspector, was accepted. Ill health was given as the cause of the resignation.

Push Light Work

City Service Manager O. S. Roen reported that the work of improving the ornamental lighting system in the business section of the city was being pushed and that it was hoped that plans and specifications for the required changes could be presented in July. He reported that on account of a shortage of power as a result of insufficient rainfall, Glenn D. Smith of the Ontario Power Company recommended that no unessential extensions of the city lighting system be made in the outlying districts at the present.

John Stewart appeared before the council to ask what the city would do in the matter of paying its share of the paving of Riverside Drive between Euclid and Archibald avenues, which skirts the city sewer farm. A petition is to be presented to the county supervisors asking that the county stand one-fourth of the expense and the property owners the balance. The council reported that the city was willing to pay for one-third of the sewer farm frontage if E. A. Parkford, who holds a lease on the property for some 18 years more, will pay the remaining two-thirds.

Wedding of Interest

Of more than ordinary interest in Ontario society circles was news of the marriage in Riverside yesterday afternoon of Wendell Cornell Stone and Miss Virginia May Parkman. The marriage was solemnized at 4 o'clock at the home of the officiating clergyman, the Rev. W. C. Selleck, 460 Orange street, with only members of the families in attendance.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wendell Stone, prominent Ontario pioneers, and has spent most of his life here. He graduated from Chaffey High School and from Pomona College in 1923. During the past year, he served as principal of the Gusti schools to the east of Ontario.

The bride is a Sophomore at Pomona College, where she is very popular in a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone are to be at home after June 23 at Berkeley, where they expect to attend summer school and later take courses at the University of California.

INSANE SECOND TIME ON TRAIN
Probably stricken with a recurrent form of insanity, W. H. Barnett, the Caldwell, Ida, printer who ran amuck on a Union Pacific limited at Barstow last February, killing Conductor Frank Morton, was taken from a train at Nampa, Ida., yesterday. Barnett was en route to his home, having been discharged from the Southern California State Hospital at Patton Saturday.

Anticipation of again seeing his family probably caused Barnett's derangement, according to Dr. J. A. Reily, superintendent at Patton, who received word that the aged printer had been acting strangely on the train.

Apparently Recovered At Hospital
"I studied Barnett's case closely while he was at our institution," said the alienist. "He was in good mental condition when he was on the train Saturday, and for some time had been normal, but it is probable that the anticipation of again seeing his wife and family, for whom he apparently cared a great deal, caused a recurrent form of insanity when he neared his home."

Dr. Reily approved of taking Barnett from the train as a precautionary act. Funds for Barnett's transportation home were furnished by his brother, of Caldwell.

Ran Amuck On Overland
Under the hallucination that he was being pursued by bandits, Barnett ran amuck on the overland as it left the Barstow yards on the morning of Feb. 7. Without warning, he drew a revolver and began firing wildly. One bullet struck Conductor Morton in the back, fatally wounding him. A brakeman and a passenger were wounded before Barnett was captured by Constable Tom Williams, of Yermo, who was on the train. Barnett collapsed when the officer threatened him with a revolver.

Barnett's normal senses returned under treatment at Patton, and it is not believed that his attack yesterday is permanent.
